WASHINGTON.

Important Opinion by the Attorney General.

The Fitz John Porter Case Submitted to Congress.

THE NEW APPROPRIATION BILL.

Washington, June 5.—The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill which Mr. Atkins presented to-day in the house, incorporates the bill known as the McMahon amendment, providing for the repeal of certain laws regulating the payment of pensions and directing the secretary of the treasury to pay out for arrearages of pensions the remainder of the $10,000,000 which have been held as special fund for the redemption of fractional currency. The bill also provides for the salaries of officers which have been created since the passage of the act of 1878, and includes the necessary appropriations for the different bureaus and other minor provisions. No general legislation other than that mentioned is included.

NOMINATIONS.

The president has nominated Simon B. Conover, of Florida, to be collector of internal revenue, and Charles L. Kier postmaster at Shelby, O.

THE FITZ JOHN PORTER CASE.

The following message from the president was received by both houses to-day:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

I transmit herewith the proceedings and report of the officers convened in the case of Fitz John Porter. The report of the board of inquiry in March last, but the official record of the proceedings did not reach me until the 31st. I have given to this report the examination as satisfies me that I ought to lay the proceedings and conclusions of the board before congress, as I am without power in the absence of legislation, to act upon the recommendations of the report further than by submitting the same to congress. The proceedings and conclusions of the board are transmitted for the information of congress, and for such measures, in your wisdom, shall seem expedient and just.

R. B. HAYES, Executive Mansion, June 5th, 1879.

IMPORTANT OPINION.

The attorney-general decides that obligations soluble in merchandise and used for circulation came so evidently within the misconception intended to be remedied by the act of February, 1878, as to subject them to a tax of 10 percent. The act prescribes that every person, firm, association, other than national bank associations, and every corporation, state bank or state banking association shall pay a tax of ten percent on the amount of their own notes used for circulation and paid out by them.

THE FOUR PERCENTS.

Washington, June 5.—Subscriptions to four percent refunding certificates since yesterday's report, $358,410.

SENATE.

Washington, June 5.—By a vote of yeas 28 to nays 18, the bill reported yesterday by Mr. Bayard, from the judiciary committee, relating to jurisdiction and to the repeal of sections 801, 820 and 821 of the revised statutes was taken up.

Mr. Hampton, after briefly supporting the bill, spoke upon general political issues.

HOUSE.

More than an hour was consumed this morning in consideration of the bill reported from the committee on printing for the election of a congressional printer, but it was not admitted, a point of order being raised that it was not such a bill as the committee was privileged to report at any time.

Atkins reported the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill and moved that it be printed and recommitted.

Hawley offered an amendment to the motion instructing the committee on appropriations to report the bill substantially in the form of the legislative appropriation bill last agreed to, excluding therefrom all general political legislation and all appropriations for judicial expenses.

Mr. Atkins thereupon withdrew the bill.

The house then resumed the business of the morning hour.

The president's message transmitting the record in the Fitz John Porter case was referred to the committee on military affairs.

The legislative appropriation bill was again reported and recommitted.

good one. It is the best adopted by the Ohio democracy for years. It speaks out in ringing tones for free and fair elections, impartial jurors, and an unimpaired ballot. It demands the substitution of treasury notes for national bank currency, and the full restoration of silver to its proper place in the fiscal system of the country, and protests against the further increase of the bonded debt.

The platform is annexed in full: Resolved, That the democracy of Ohio demand free and fair elections, and that no man can be elected to office by the military power; that the experience of this and other countries has abundantly proved that the presence of troops at the polls is destructive of free elections and is incompatible with the existence of a government under the laws enacted by congress, which, under the pretence of regulating the manner of election, has introduced into the elections of state officers and overthrown the laws of the states governing the choice of officers; that the democracy of Ohio for that reason ought to be repealed; that they are also instrumentalities of fraud, and corruption by which the party in power uses the money of the people to corrupt, and thousands of irresponsible officials to harass and coerce the voters, and especially by force and fraud to deprive our naturalized citizens of the right to vote, and for these reasons, also, the democracy of Ohio demand that immediately Resolved, That impartial jurors are essential to the administration of justice, and thereby to the preservation of liberty; that no man can be secure in his property or person, if he is not protected and controlled by the government for despotic and partisan purposes; that the jury is the only tribunal which can be trusted to administer the law, and that the highest interests of justice and free government require that the jury be changed so as to secure fair, impartial and independent jurors in the federal courts.

Resolved, That the republican minority in congress by refusing to vote supplies to the administration of justice, and thereby to the preservation of liberty; that no man can be secure in his property or person, if he is not protected and controlled by the government for despotic and partisan purposes; that the jury is the only tribunal which can be trusted to administer the law, and that the highest interests of justice and free government require that the jury be changed so as to secure fair, impartial and independent jurors in the federal courts.

FASHION FANCIES.

Being Items of Interest for Our Lady Readers. Belts are again in fashion. Large bonnets do not take. Pleated skirts are very popular. Shoulder capes are very fashionable. Clinging dresses already look old-fashioned.

Small boys and girls wear dresses precisely alike. Panties grow larger and rise higher around the hips. Small children wear boots and shoes without heels.

Plain skirts without flounces are coming in vogue. Elbow sleeves are to be worn again for street costume.

Untrimmed round skirts are preferred for traveling use. Traveling dresses are made with no trimming, or very little.

Black Brussels net bonnets bid fair to be very fashionable. New lambrequins and curtains are of striped mummy cloth.

Children's garments have large square pockets back of the hips. Sailor suits with kilt skirts continue to be worn by both small boys and girls.

The use of elbow sleeves has revived that of black velvet bands for bracelets. Plain, short, round skirts are faced at the bottom, not bound or edged with braid.

Young girls just entering their teens are given dresses very like their older sisters. Small boys wear long, dark colored stockings, whether dressed in white or colors.

Pinafore suits for girls from four to ten appear among novelty costumes for children. The hat and bonnet alone show the difference between a small boy's and girl's dress at present.

Worth drapes wide sashes straight around the hips of many of his costumes, fastening them with large fancy buckles on one hip.

The draperies of plain shirts are made short, enpanier, and very bouffant around the hips, with a very short apron or none at all.

A new skirt trimming consists of square sashed-up edges, under which are placed ruffles of plaid lace showing between the sashes.

Pinafore jackets of navy blue cloth, trimmed with gilt braid and buttons, will be worn with white dresses by little girls of four up to ten.

SUCCESS IN THE STOCK MARKET.

Few people understand how large fortunes are amassed so rapidly in stock operations. Messrs. Lawrence & Co., bankers, New York, have just published "The Unerring Rules for Success" and full details, so that any one can operate. Mailed free.

Their new combination system of dealing in stocks is wonderfully profitable. By this method thousands of orders, in various sums, are pooled into one immense capital, and co-operated as a mighty whole, thus securing to each shareholder all the advantages of vast capital and best skill. Profits divided every thirty days. $15 would return $76 profit, $100 would return $1,000, or 10 percent on the stock in the month, and so on, according to the market. A New York fashion editor and prominent newspaper correspondent, made over 875 percent profit on an investment, Oct. 6, 1878. Many others are doing as well and better. Large or small amounts can be used with equal proportionate success by this system. All kinds of stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., bankers, 57 Exchange Place, New York City. 7

CONNUBIAL CUSSINESS.

Another Interesting Case of Domestic Infidelity.

How a Wife Brought Her Old Man to Time With an Umbrella.

Jacob Hess works at Bass's Foundry, so do lots of other folks. Jacob Hess boards at Charlie Diehm's, so do lots of other people. Jacob Hess lives with his wife; so do lots of other folks—live with their wives.

Their marital relations apparently didn't run along as smoothly as the current of a mighty river, but more like a prairie schooner on a corduroy road. Things got shook up like thunder and lately it appears Jacob got shook up also. Everybody was satisfied, he was satisfied and she was satisfied until yesterday morning, when Jacob concluded to change his boarding place from Diehm's to the Phillips House. Mrs. Hess wouldn't have it that way, and followed Jacob to that fashionable hotel to persuade her lord and master (?) to return with her. Jacob yielded the floor to the majority and accompanied her back to Diehm's. Closing Proceedings of the Annual Convention.

Reports, Discussions, Routine Business, Etc.

The state Episcopal convention re-assembled last evening, when an address on lay works was read by the Rev. Bradford and discussed at some length by the Revs. Trimble, Harper, Boxer and Eagle, Messrs. Duy, Hinks and others.

This morning at 7 o'clock there was a celebration of Holy communion, and at 9 o'clock the day's proceedings of the convention were begun with devotional exercises. The reports of the several committees were received and provoked considerable discussion. At noon a recess was taken for dinner, and this afternoon the business of the convention will be wound up.

This evening a reception will be given to Bishop Talbot at the residence of ex-Mayor Randall, which promises to be a very brilliant affair. The SENTINEL has had a reporter in almost constant attendance upon the convention, but owing to the stupidity, pig-headedness, simplicity, obstinacy or something else of the secretary, one Bradley, of New Albany, who utterly refused to extend the ordinary courtesies and facilities to the press, our reports have not been so full or complete as they usually are of such assemblages. Mr. Bradley appears to be more devoted to his stomach than anything else.

HOFFER'S NO HOG.

Because He Knows When He Has Got Enough.

Christian Menner, the young gent who ornamented the face of Andrew Hoffer night before last, showed up to-day at the temple of justice. Mayor Zollinger being at Eaton Rapids, Justice Wilkinson presided as the blind goddess. Hoffer, the defendant, could have filled that chair with extreme propriety, as he is about as near blind as there is any use in being. That is Christian's fault. Andrew tried to buy some calves of a farmer contrary to Christian's desire. Christ called Andrew a nice fellow, and Andrew called Christian a liar. That was even. Then Christian blinged Andrew on the eye, and Andrew sat down. Menner sat down to. Only he sat down on top of Hoffer's. He proceeded to turn him.

Andrew wasn't a hog, he knew when he had enough, and he said so. That didn't make any difference to Christian, and he continued to thump away until taken off.

LATE CITY NEWS.

THE WAR IN AFRICA.

A White Woman Divorced from her Negro Husband.

Interesting Testimony Elicited.

The suit for divorce and alimony brought by Catherine Rhodes against Robert Rhodes came up for a hearing before Judge O'Rourke, in the circuit court to-day, and attracted considerable attention from the fact that the defendant is an athletic Zulu, while the plaintiff is of undoubted white extraction, though she probably has some negro blood in her. The complaint recites that this marriage took place at Lima, O., in the fall of 1875, and the ground relied on in the petition is cruelty.

On this point some interesting testimony was adduced. Mrs. Sylvester Grey, a former neighbor swore that on one occasion the defendant took the plaintiff rudely by the arm and administered 3-4 volleys of blows with a heavy board taken from a fallen fence; that her screams were frequently heard and marks of violence appeared on her face to such an extent that she was obliged to wear a veil to hide them. Mrs. Marks, another neighbor, had heard Rhodes quarrelling with his wife and the next day had noticed bruises on her person. Since these occurrences they had lived together. A divorce was granted to the plaintiff, and the case was continued until this afternoon, when the matter of the alimony sued for will be decided.

Hobbs vs. Hobbs.

Julia A. Hobbs complains that Joseph R. Hobbs married her in 1864, and that since that time he has almost utterly refused to support her, and she had to do it herself. She left him five years ago, and he promised to do better, but it's no go. She prays for absolute divorce and the custody of the two children. The case is in the superior court.

Hoffer, the defendant, could have filled that chair with extreme propriety, as he is about as near blind as there is any use in being. That is Christian's fault. Andrew tried to buy some calves of a farmer contrary to Christian's desire. Christ called Andrew a nice fellow, and Andrew called Christian a liar. That was even. Then Christian begged Andrew on the eye, and Andrew sat down. Menner sat down too, only he sat down on top of Hoffer's head, and proceeded to turn him.

Andrew wasn't a hog, he

he had enough, and he said so. That didn't make any difference to Christian, and he continued to thump away until taken off.

Wilkinson thought he had enough fun to cover a ten-acre lot and assessed him fifty cents an acre, which was cheap. Christian cashed up and departed, apparently well satisfied.

LATE CITY NEWS.

THE WAR IN AFRICA.

A White Woman Divorced from her Negro Husband.

Interesting Testimony Elicited.

The suit for divorce and alimony brought by Catherine Rhodes against Robert Rhodes came up for a hearing before Judge O'Rourke, in the circuit court to-day, and attracted considerable attention from the fact that the defendant is an athletic Zulu, while the plaintiff is of undoubted white extraction, though she probably has some negro blood in her. The complaint recites that this marriage took place at Lima, O., in the fall of 1875, and the ground relied on in the petition is cruelty.

On this point some interesting testimony was adduced. Mrs. Sylvester Grey, a former neighbor swore that on one occasion the defendant took the plaintiff rudely by the arm and administered a volley of blows with a heavy board taken from a fallen fence; that her screams were frequently heard and marks of violence appeared on her face to such an extent that she was obliged to wear a veil to hide them. Mrs. Marks, another neighbor, had heard Rhodes quarrelling with his wife and the next day had noticed bruises on her person. Since these occurrences they had lived together. A divorce was granted to the plaintiff, and the case was continued until this afternoon, when the matter of the alimony sued for will be decided.

Hobbs vs. Hobbs.

Julia A. Hobbs complains that Joseph R. Hobbs married her in 1864, and that since that time he has almost utterly refused to support her, and she had to do it herself. She left him five years ago, and he promised to do better, but it's no go. She prays for absolute divorce and the custody of the two children. The case is in the superior court.
